

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Optical fibers illuminate the flower display in a water-filled vase. The light source for the optical fibers is submerged in the water in the vase. The light source contains a battery, an on/off switch, a control circuit and at least one light emitting diode in a waterproof housing.